Capt. Rowe Banquets Them Target Practice—Lieut. Larkin Makes
The Highest Score.
The Washington Guards held a target practice Friday evenling. The company marched to the target grounds under the command of Capt. Frath H. Revere and Lieut. T. M. Larkin, presenting a very creditable appearance. The five highest scores out of a possible 25 were made by the following:

Lieut. T. M. Larkin, presenting a very creditable appearance. The five highest scores out of a possible 25 were made by the following:

Lieut. T. M. Larkin, 21; Sergeant B. L. Leavell, 18; Sergeant John B. Proctor, 17; Private R. E. Howe, 18; Private L. C. Walker, 17.
A thight Lapt. M. B. Rowe, the retiring commander, tendered the company a very hardsome supper at the dining saloon of Mr. T. F. Proctor, on Commerce street. The choiceat that the market could furnish was served. The menu consisted of oysters in every style, him, turkey, game and condiments of all kinds. The occasion was a joyous one and only marred by the recollection that Capt. Bowe, for whom the menhave the highest regard as an officer and man, found it necessary, owing to pressing business matters, to resign as head of the company.

company. Some of those on board disembarked at wharves between here and Urbanna, but a large majority made the trip through.

Among those on board were: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thornton, Messre. Clarance R. Howard. C. O'Conor Goolrick, F. L. W. Green, Tom Shepherd, Taylor Smith, R. H. Carmichael, Mason Smith, Walter Dillard, formerly of this city, now of Richmond; George Downs, Goolrick Rodgers, Carl Brummett, Alfred Thomas, Dan Revere and Rollins, of King George.

Mrs. Thornton left the steamer at Port. Conway, going to the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. Taylor Thornton, for a visit. Mr. Thornton stopped once in Tappahann ek, the guest of friends, and returned to Port Conway Saturday afternoon.

On the way down a negro passenger in Tappahaane ck, the guest of friends, and returned to Port Corway Saturday afternoon.

On the way down a negro passenger became obstreperous and refused to leave that portion of the steamer assigned to whites, after being politely requested to do so by Capt Archer. Upon a second refusal, be was unceremoniously hustled below by officials of the steamer and threstened with handruffs in event of further disturbance. He subsided and was put off at Port Royal.

During the trip down every passenger aboard was invited to a lunch, consisting of etewed oysters, caffee, sandwiches, etc., by President Carter, and it is needless to say that the repast was enjoyed. Arrived at Urbanna, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, together with a number of the young men, attended adelightful German at the bank building, Messrs. Downs, Brummett and Rodgers furnishing the music. The men at the dance outnumbered the girls three to one, but among the young ladies present were some of the most charming girls in Middlesex. The German was led by Mr. Chrance R. Howard, of this city, and dancing was continued until 3:30 a m. After securing one hour's sleep, the Fredericksburg party, who attended the German, were aroused for a 5 o clock breakfast by Proprietor Fitzbugh, of the hotel, and took the steamer at 6 o'clock for home, arriving here at 8 o'clock on the same evening.

Altogether, the trip was a most pleasant one, and thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all who took advantage of the Tourist's hospitality.
